

OUTRIGGER CLUB AGAIN IS FACING ITS OLD PROBLEM

Organization is So Popular Its Waiting-List is Much Ampler Than Its Accommodations

Shall dressing room facilities be provided by the Outrigger Canoe Club on its grounds for the use of women guests of members?

With the mailing today by Secretary J. Ashman Beaven of the Outrigger Canoe Club to all members of notices of a special meeting to be held a week from tonight in Cooke hall, Y. M. C. A., there has come to a climax the question which has arisen every year for the last four years without being settled and which now threatens to stir the organization to its foundations.

This is whether or not the Outrigger shall take steps to erect dressing rooms for women relatives and guests of members—women who have been unable to gain admission to membership in the woman's auxiliary of the club owing to the long waiting list and the already overcrowded quarters of the auxiliary.

At the annual meeting in July this problem created the most emphatic discussion of any one matter considered. A percentage of the members favored the move, while others argued that for the club to go to such lengths would mean a radical change in its former policy. The matter was finally referred back to the board of directors for their earnest consideration.

Far from being killed by this move, the proposition has again come forward, a written request for a special meeting of the club having recently been signed by 25 members and sent to President H. B. Campbell, who was elected at the annual meeting while away on the mainland. A similar request signed by four members of the board of directors has also been received by the president.

"As both requests call for action on the same general subject," says the notice of the special meeting mailed today to each member by Secretary Beaven, "it has been decided that one special meeting will comply with both requests."

Therefore, in accordance with section 6 of the bylaws, President H. B. Campbell hereby calls a special meeting of the Outrigger Canoe Club, to be held in Cooke hall, Y. M. C. A. building, at 8 o'clock sharp on Tuesday evening, October 24.

"The business to be transacted at this meeting shall be confined to action on the following questions:

"(1) Shall dressing room facilities be provided by the Outrigger Canoe Club on its grounds for the use of women guests of members?

"(2) Shall the term 'guests' be held to include all women guests of members, irrespective of relationship?

"(3) Shall the term 'guests' be held to include only those wives, daughters, mothers and sisters of members whose names are now or hereafter may be on the waiting list of the women's auxiliary, but only while they remain on said waiting list?

"(4) Shall the term 'guests' be held to include only the wives, daughters, mothers and sisters of members, whether their names appear on the waiting list of the women's auxiliary or not?

"In calling this special meeting, President Campbell desires that the attention of members be called to the fact that the question to be considered at this special meeting involves a radical change in the former policy of the club, and he also expresses the hope that every member will regard it as his duty, as well as his privilege, to attend this meeting and express his desire in the matter.

"If you cannot attend this meeting or arrange to be represented by proxy, will you kindly fill out the enclosed blank, indicating your wishes, and mail it to me in a sealed envelope to be opened at the meeting.

"Information as to the number of women for whom members desire dressing room accommodations provided will be of value to this special meeting, therefore I will ask you to state your wishes on the enclosed postal card and mail same to me."

Accompanying the notice are blanks which will be considered when filled out by members who cannot attend the meeting as expressions of their wishes in the matter and may possibly be considered as votes. The blanks contain the same questions as in the notice and members are to write "yes" or "no" after each of the four.

According to the members opposed to erecting dressing rooms for women guests, such action would antagonize both the woman's auxiliary of the club and the Moana baths and Seaside hotel as well. They say it would be nothing more or less than "going into the bathroom business" and would violate agreements made some years ago with the auxiliary by which the Outrigger promised to defer erecting dressing rooms for women guests if the auxiliary would take in 100 more women members, which was done at that time.

Those favoring the proposition say there are members of the Outrigger whose wives, daughters, mothers and sisters have been on the waiting list of the auxiliary for nearly two years without being admitted to membership and that if the auxiliary cannot help them it is up to the Outrigger to take such action as will relieve the situation.

BOURBON IDEALS SET ON PEDESTAL BY PRESIDENT

Declares Party Only Real Instrument for Humane and Just Legislation

(Associated Press by Federal Wire) LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 17.—The Democratic party is the only real instrumentality through which the people of the United States can enact really humane and just as well as progressive legislation. That is what President Wilson told a number of Wilson volunteers, among whom were Amos Pinchot, former friend of Theodore Roosevelt, and Rabbi Wise of New York, who called upon him at Shadow Lawn yesterday.

The volunteers told the president that they had come to offer him their services and that they are planning to campaign through the length and breadth of New York State from "the Battery to Buffalo" in his behalf, because they felt that he has "given the nation a square deal."

In his response to the remarks made by the spokesman for the volunteers, Mr. Wilson said that he was deeply grateful for their proffer of aid.

G. O. P. Desires

"The time has come now for America to unite her progressive forces against the steady encroachments of special privilege," he said.

The leaders of the opposition, he added, want but three things.

"They are after the scalp of the present controller of the currency. Their hope is to remove him and gain a free hand and full control of the banking system of the whole land."

"They are also seeking to force this government to turn debt collector for them. In other words, they want to put the army and navy back of their huge financial enterprises in Mexico and elsewhere throughout the whole world."

HAWAIIAN MUSIC AND DANCING IN EAST RIDICULOUS

A. P. Taylor Says Both Will Fail Unless Something is Done to Change Conditions

"Hawaiian music and dancing are riding to a fall," said A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, today. "This is what all fear unless something is done to change the conditions of things on the mainland at present."

"Hawaiian music as it is composed and sold here by the local publishers is Hawaiian music at its best and no one will have any apologies to make for the quality, but the managers of the East have changed much of the spirit of the songs, and as a result Hawaii is not going to benefit by it."

"Managers of vaudeville companies and cafes always seek for the punch, and the Hawaiian songs are interpolated to such an extent that they verge on the ridiculous. Hawaiian music has made a success, because it is typically Hawaiian, and the vaudeville effects weaken it. Managers are prone to get all that is possible of the music and the original music is oftentimes distorted."

"This is true in dancing as well as in the music, and the hula has been made into a loochi-koochi by many of the producers in the East. As the hula is danced in Hawaii it is pretty and accompanied with proper music, but the mainland producers have often made the variations which have proved to be ridiculous."

"When George Angus was in New York he went to Maxims, where a Hawaiian orchestra was playing. The music had been changed, and very few people paid any attention to it. Angus asked the boys if they would play one of the real Hawaiian selections, and as they played the diners paid attention, and when the piece was concluded the crowd encircled for several minutes. This is proof that the real music is wanted in the East."

First Women's Campaign Special Starts

On the morning of October 2, after a breakfast at the Hotel Plaza given by Mrs. Payne Whitney with Mrs. Hughes as the guest of honor, several hundred women proceeded to the Grand Central Station, New York, from which the Women's Hughes Campaign Train started across the continent to visit 28 states and more than one hundred cities.

FINDS CRAWLING BEETLES IN DRY JAPANESE FISH

In an effort to put an end to the importation of Japanese fish infected with worms and beetles, Food Commissioner A. W. Hansen is working with officials at the custom house and has begun carefully checking over invoices of goods received here from Japan.

Hansen says that considerable amount of dried fish of the cod or haddock family reaches here from Japan infected with vermin of this sort. Sometimes the bugs are moving about and sometimes still in the unhatched stage, hidden away within the sides of the dried fish.

Samples which the food commissioner has in his office contain large quantities of the pests which may be found by simply breaking back the flesh of the fish.

"We intend to work at this from both the territorial and federal standpoint," he says, "to see if we cannot stamp out such importation entirely. It is probable that the dried fish is only a carrier of eggs when it starts on its trip here, and that the worms and beetles develop en route or after reaching Honolulu."

BOYS ARE BLAMED FOR MANY PETTY THEFTS

Two boys have been arrested whom Chief McDuffie of the detectives believes are responsible for many petty robberies and burglaries committed in Honolulu in the last two weeks. In their possession were several loaves of bread and a number of bottles of milk which had apparently been stolen from doorsteps. The chief says the boys are a part of a large gang which has been operating with considerable skill in the community and making caches of their spoils. The boys will be turned over to the juvenile court.

ALLIES' NOTE ON SEIZURE OF MAIL FALLS FAR SHORT

Believed Administration Will Not Press Issue Till After Election

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—Although the reply to the American note of protest against interference with American mails by the Entente Powers falls to measure up to the standard set by the state department, it is believed that no further steps will be taken until after election.

Such, at least, was the gist of statements made at the department yesterday. It is officially stated that any further positive step on the part of the United States would bring the matter into a critical stage.

HUGHES DENIES HE IS PUPPET OF BIG MONEY

Refutes Charge of "Invisible" Reign at Washington if Elected to Office

(Associated Press by Federal Wire) OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 17.—"It is un-American and absolutely without justification ever to surrender either the legislative or the executive power to the demand or to the threatened force of either capital or labor," declared Charles E. Hughes to an audience that crowded the auditorium here to its doors last night, an audience that cheered the words of the speaker and frequently became so enthusiastic in its applause of his words that he was forced to stop for minutes at a time.

Mr. Hughes was in fighting form and spoke with a degree of force that absolutely belied the statements that he is unemotional and incapable of arousing enthusiasm. His denunciation of the Adamson law, part of which is here quoted, was forcible, but he was at his best in replying to the Democratic charge that an administration under him would mean the return of "invisible government" at Washington.

"If these who make such a charge had investigated in the least the administration of New York State while I was at Albany they would know perfectly that there will be no invisible government at Washington if I am elected president of the United States," he said.

IN WAR ARENA

FORGERY LED TO DEATH OF IRISH PATRIOT

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 17.—The commission which has been investigating the killing of Skeffington, one of the Irish rebels who was shot after he had surrendered to the British in Dublin, following the collapse of the Irish revolt, has rendered its report.

It declares that Capt. Bowen-Colthurst "in an effort to excuse his action" had placed among the documents found in the clothing of the slain man "secret military orders" of such a nature as to serve as a warranty for the shooting. These "secret military orders," declares the commission, are entirely forged.

No complaint is made of the action of Lieut. Morris, who is said to have carried out the orders of his superior officer.

BERLIN SAYS ALLIES' WARSHIPS SHELL EACH OTHER

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 17.—Despatches to the Overseas News Agency from its correspondent at Amsterdam last night reported that a British and Italian battleship came into collision in the Messina Channel, the narrow mouth of the Adriatic Sea, recently, and being unable to identify each other owing to a dense fog, shelled each other for some time before their mutual mistake was corrected.

The same despatch says that an explosion has been reported to have taken place on board the Italian battleship Regina Margherita while lying in port at Spezia.

HOLLAND CUTS OFF TEUTON FISH SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—Great Britain and Holland have entered into an agreement whereby the fish supplies of the German people will be cut off almost wholly, or at least such part of them as have been reaching the Teutons through Holland.

News of the agreement reached the state department last night. By the terms of the compact, as reported here, the Dutch government will divert 55 per cent of her own available fish supply to the Allies and neutral nations, especially the latter.

He died in a military prison, where he was serving a life sentence.

SUGAR CHEMIST'S VALUE TO HAWAII NOW RECOGNIZED

Horace Johnson Tells Students of College of Hawaii How Profession Has Progressed

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) COLLEGE OF HAWAII, Oct. 17.—At the assembly of the students of the College of Hawaii yesterday the address was delivered by Horace Johnson, supervising chemist of C. Brewer & Company's plantations, who spoke on the "Profession of the Sugar Chemist."

He told the students that at one time the sugar chemist had no important place on a plantation. The precise amount of knowledge required then was almost elementary, and if a chemist said he thought there was too much waste in the mill, "What do you know about machinery?" or "What do you know about sugar?" was the answer.

"Now, however," Mr. Johnson said, "the sugar chemist is appreciated. There is a demand on the plantation for a young man who can handle and control the different operations in the manufacture of sugar. He must have a knowledge of the machinery used; he must be able to analyze fuels, soils, waters, etc."

"After graduation do not fool yourself as to what you know. The biggest crisis for a student comes in the period between graduation and actually acquiring the practical knowledge. He must learn to put his theoretical knowledge to practical use, and the one way to do this is to learn everything about a mill. Learn all about the kind of machinery used, then see how good it is. Make out a complete data book showing the capacities of every tank, the types of pumps, etc. Keep records of all results obtained."

"In my experience with young men going into mill work, as a rule they have a good theoretical knowledge, but their weak point is in the interpretation of results. A young chemist may report to the manager the exact result of a certain analysis to one hundredth of a per cent; but in industrial chemistry that is not all. After your analysis you are not half through. You must know and use practical illustrations. The manager does not want to know the analysis of a syrup as much as he wants to know the real value in dollars and cents."

"Another extremely important qualification for a chemist, and one that is most necessary for a successful sugar chemist, is the proper attitude of mind toward your men and those with whom you are associated. The man who treats the ideas and suggestions of others with consideration makes allowance for the welfare of his employees, and who instills the spirit of good will into everything he does will be the successful sugar chemist."

This afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Dean will hold an informal gathering on the campus of the college between 4 and 5:30 p. m. for the purpose of meeting all the students. It is their intention to have the members of the board of regents, the faculty and the students get to know each other and spend a pleasant afternoon together.

BOARD FAVORS PAYING HALF ON KALAKAUA AVE.

That the majority of supervisors is in favor of paying half the expenses of laying a temporary track on Kalakaua avenue was ascertained by a canvass of the board.

According to the engineers, the extra cost will be $8000 and the question to be settled is whether the supervisors will pay $4000 or attempt to make the Rapid Transit pay it all. The city attorney's office has declared that it is illegal to pay any of the money.

William Ahia and Robert Horner are the only members of the board who believe that the attorney's advice should be followed, the other five being more or less willing to appropriate the $4000.

It was pointed out by one member that the time set by the Rapid Transit for the delivery of the rails was, of course, the maximum, and as it is practically two months before the work can legally start, and as the construction of the makai side—which will be done first—will take several more months, it is very likely that by the time they are needed the rails will be here.
